1. Welcome, Mission, and Values

Evolve Dance and Fitness provides family-friendly youth dance and fitness programming designed to support movement, confidence, discipline, teamwork, creativity, strong character, and lifelong wellness.

Music, choreography, costumes, themes, and performances will follow Evolve's age-appropriate, family-friendly standards.

Students are expected to:

- Treat instructors, classmates, families, volunteers, and studio property respectfully.
- Use kind and age-appropriate language.
- Arrive ready to learn and participate.
- Follow safety instructions and practice personal responsibility.
- Encourage others and celebrate growth, effort, and teamwork.

Parents and guardians are expected to support attendance, preparedness, respectful communication, and compliance with studio requirements.

2. Enrollment and Account Information

Jackrabbit manages registration, enrollment, rosters, family accounts, billing, and routine communications. Families may use online registration and the Parent Portal to update account information, review schedules and transactions, manage payment methods, renew policies, submit available requests, and receive notices.

Enrollment is not complete until the student is confirmed in the class, all required documents have been accepted, and applicable tuition and fees have been paid. Enrollment remains subject to class availability, age and skill requirements, account status, safety considerations, and studio approval.

Evolve may recommend or require a different class placement when necessary for safety, readiness, staffing, program fit, learning pace, confidence, or skill development.

Families must keep the following information accurate and current:

- Parent and guardian contact information.
- Emergency contacts.
- Medical conditions, allergies, medications, restrictions, and relevant support needs.
- Authorized pickup contacts.
- Custody, court-order, or split-family instructions.
- Billing and payment information.
- Communication preferences.

Custody, restricted-pickup, and split-family instructions must be provided in writing. Evolve cannot enforce undocumented verbal or informal family arrangements.

Trial students must complete all required waivers and follow the same safety, attire, conduct, and participation expectations as enrolled students.

Students who turn 18 must complete any required adult agreements, waivers, authorizations, and account updates before continued participation.

Waitlists do not guarantee placement. Evolve may combine, cancel, or change classes based on enrollment, staffing, safety, or program needs.

3. Tuition, Payments, and Withdrawal

Evolve uses a monthly tuition model for recurring weekly classes. Monthly tuition reserves the student's place in each enrolled class and is not calculated solely according to attendance, the number of class meetings in a month, holidays, vacations, illness, or schedule conflicts unless Evolve publishes a specific exception in writing.

Monthly tuition is based on a month with at least four scheduled class meetings. When a month includes a fifth class meeting, no additional tuition is charged for that fifth class.

Any planned studio closure will result in a prorated tuition amount for the affected month so families are charged only for the scheduled classes that actually occur.

Standard monthly tuition is calculated according to the total number of eligible weekly class enrollments across the family account. The current discounted monthly rate per eligible class enrollment is:

- One enrollment: $75.00.
- Two enrollments: $70.00 each, for a family total of $140.00.
- Three enrollments: approximately $66.67 each, for a family total of $200.00.
- Four or more enrollments: $62.50 for each enrollment. This rate does not cap the family's total tuition.

Free trials, fitness drop-ins, private lessons, camps, workshops, recital or performance participation, competition-team fees, merchandise, registration fees, costume fees, and event fees do not count toward the standard multi-class tuition discount unless Evolve expressly states otherwise in writing.

A non-refundable annual registration fee of $30 per student applies upon first enrollment in an eligible recurring weekly class and includes one Evolve T-shirt, subject to sizing, inventory, and fulfillment procedures. Additional eligible classes in the same registration period do not create another fee. Trials, fitness drop-ins, private lessons, camps, workshops, events, and other ineligible offerings do not trigger the fee unless stated otherwise.

Monthly tuition is billed on the 25th calendar day of each month for the following month and is due on the first calendar day of that month unless Evolve states otherwise in writing. Tuition and applicable fees must be paid before participation. Continued nonpayment may result in a participation hold, loss of class placement, or removal from enrollment.

Jackrabbit handles registration, billing, and payment processing. Auto-pay is optional unless separately authorized. Families must keep payment and account information current. Evolve does not pass standard credit-card processing fees to families, but late, returned-payment, chargeback, or other account fees may apply under the Enrollment Agreement and Payment Policy.

Monthly enrollment continues until properly cancelled. To stop the next month's billing, Evolve must receive a written drop or cancellation request by the 20th calendar day through the Parent Portal drop-request process, when enabled, or another published written method. Verbal notice, absence, nonattendance, revoked authorization, or stopped payment does not cancel enrollment.

Private lessons are separate from monthly tuition. Current private-lesson rates are $40 for 30 minutes and $65 for 60 minutes. Program-specific pricing and cancellation terms may apply to fitness drop-ins, camps, workshops, costumes, recitals, showcases, merchandise, and special events.

Detailed terms governing payment methods, recurring-payment authorization, failed or returned payments, late fees, refunds, credits, proration, cancellation, and other financial obligations are contained in the Enrollment Agreement and Payment Policy. Those more specific documents control if they conflict with this handbook.

4. Attendance and Makeups

Consistent attendance supports student progress, class safety, choreography retention, and group confidence.

Students should arrive on time, properly dressed, and ready to participate. Students arriving late may be asked to wait for a safe entry point, modify participation, or observe if joining immediately would disrupt class or create a safety concern.

Families should report absences through the approved studio communication method. Makeup classes are not guaranteed and, when offered, are subject to class availability, age and level compatibility, program requirements, and studio approval. Makeup opportunities have no cash value and do not reduce tuition.

Performance, recital, showcase, competition, or team programs may have stricter attendance requirements. Absences, injuries, restrictions, or participation concerns should be communicated promptly.

5. Drop-Off, Pickup, and Supervision

Parents and guardians are responsible for students before check-in and after dismissal unless Evolve has expressly agreed to supervise the student during a scheduled activity.

Students should arrive no more than 10 minutes before the scheduled activity unless Evolve provides different instructions. Pickup should occur within 5 minutes after dismissal.

Minor students may be released only to an approved parent, legal guardian, or authorized pickup contact when controlled release is required. Evolve may request identification when authorization or identity is unclear.

Families must notify Evolve in advance of pickup changes. Students may not wait unattended outside, in parking areas, hallways, or other unsupervised spaces.

Repeated late pickup may result in additional fees, participation limitations, or a required parent or guardian conference. If no responsible adult can be reached after dismissal, Evolve may contact emergency contacts or take other reasonable steps based on the student's safety needs.

Parents and visitors may enter instructional or backstage areas only with permission. Observation may be limited to reduce distraction and protect student privacy.

The restroom is accessed by crossing the edge of the dance floor. During class, parents and guests should wait for a break in instruction before crossing whenever practical.

6. Dress and Class Preparedness

Students must wear clean, secure, movement-appropriate clothing that provides suitable coverage and allows instructors to observe alignment and safe movement.

Class-specific attire, shoes, colors, hairstyles, costumes, and performance requirements may be issued separately. Families are responsible for reviewing and following those requirements.

General expectations include:

- Hair secured away from the face.

- Required dance shoes or instructor-approved footwear.
- No dirty street shoes on dance flooring.
- Removal of jewelry, watches, loose accessories, or items that may catch, fall, scratch, or distract.
- A labeled water bottle when appropriate.
- Personal belongings stored in designated areas.
- No gum, toys, valuables, or unnecessary items in the movement area.

A student who arrives without safe or required attire may be asked to modify participation, observe, or correct the issue before participating.

7. Student and Family Conduct

Students, parents, guardians, and visitors must support a safe, respectful, and encouraging environment.

Prohibited conduct includes:

- Bullying, harassment, intimidation, exclusion, threats, profanity, or abusive communication.
- Unsafe movement, rough play, intentional collisions, or misuse of equipment.
- Unauthorized departure from supervised areas.
- Damage, theft, or misuse of studio or personal property.
- Weapons, illegal substances, alcohol, vaping products, tobacco, or unsafe items.
- Unauthorized photography, recording, livestreaming, or posting of others.
- Interruption of instruction or direct discipline of another family's child.
- Public or social-media conduct that violates privacy, consent, or respectful communication expectations.

Concerns should be communicated privately through approved studio channels. Instructors are not expected to resolve billing, enrollment, custody, refund, privacy, placement, or sensitive family matters during class time.

Evolve may address conduct through redirection, parent contact, observation, conferences, behavior plans, suspension, class or event removal, visitor restrictions, or dismissal. Immediate action may be taken for safety threats, harassment, bullying, unauthorized pickup, inappropriate contact, property damage, or serious disruption.

Refunds or credits following suspension or dismissal are governed by the applicable written policy and signed agreements.

8. Health, Safety, Emergencies, and Physical Instruction

Dance and fitness activities involve inherent risks. Families are responsible for deciding whether participation is appropriate and for providing relevant health, allergy, injury, medication, accessibility, sensory, behavioral, and safety information.

Students should not attend when they have a fever, vomiting, contagious illness, uncontrolled coughing, an unexplained rash, lice, or another condition that may create an unreasonable risk to themselves or others.

Students must tell the instructor about pain, dizziness, illness, injury, recent treatment, activity restrictions, or other participation concerns. Evolve may require modified participation, observation, temporary removal, parent or guardian confirmation, or medical clearance when reasonably necessary for safety.

Instruction may include demonstrations, verbal or visual cues, proximity-based coaching, spotting, safety intervention, and limited hands-on correction for legitimate instructional or safety purposes. Students may communicate discomfort, and parents or guardians may discuss reasonable alternative instructional methods with Evolve. If a student cannot participate safely without appropriate correction, spotting, or assistance, Evolve may modify or limit participation.

During an injury, illness, allergic reaction, or urgent safety concern, Evolve may contact a parent, guardian, emergency contact, or emergency medical services. Emergency treatment authorization, responsibility for related expenses, and other medical terms are governed by the Medical Release / Emergency Treatment Authorization, Liability Waiver, and other signed documents.

Students should promptly report injuries, bullying, inappropriate contact, or unsafe conditions to an instructor or trusted adult.

Families should promptly report injuries and safety concerns. Evolve may create factual internal incident records for safety, insurance, operational, legal, and follow-up purposes.

9. Privacy, Media, and Communications

Evolve handles student and family information according to its Privacy Notice / Children's Privacy Addendum and related consent documents.

Media, photographs, video, likeness, and promotional use are governed separately through optional media consent. Students, families, visitors, volunteers, and instructors may not photograph, record, livestream, or post another student or family without permission and any required consent.

Photography and recording are prohibited in restrooms, dressing areas, changing spaces, and other areas where privacy is expected.

Student rosters, account information, health information, family contacts, pickup instructions, internal communications, choreography, and rehearsal materials must not be shared publicly without authorization.

Instructors should not privately message minor students unless authorized by Evolve and the parent or guardian.

Evolve may communicate through email, phone, text, Jackrabbit, the Parent Portal, website notices, posted announcements, or other approved methods. Families are responsible for monitoring these communications and maintaining current contact, emergency, pickup, billing, and notification information. General parent-facing and account communications may be sent from info@dancewiththevolve.com.

Urgent attendance, pickup, health, and safety concerns should be communicated as soon as possible. Private concerns should not be addressed through public posts, lobby discussions, student-facing conversations, or messages to other families.

10. Performances, Facilities, Closures, and Personal Property

Performance participation may include separate requirements for attendance, rehearsals, costumes, fees, tickets, arrival, pickup, volunteers, photography, backstage access, venue rules, and deadlines. Event-specific written instructions govern the applicable event.

Evolve may modify participation or staging because of missed rehearsals, unpaid event fees, missing costumes, missed deadlines, conduct concerns, or safety considerations.

Students and families must treat studios, floors, mirrors, barres, equipment, props, technology, restrooms, waiting areas, parking areas, and event spaces with care. Food, drinks, gum, phones, and personal items may be restricted in dance areas.

Evolve is not responsible for lost, stolen, or damaged personal property. Families should label belongings and bring only necessary items.

Evolve may cancel, reschedule, relocate, combine, shorten, move online, or otherwise modify programming for weather, facility, staffing, enrollment, illness, safety, emergency, operational, or planned-closure reasons. Changes will be communicated when practical. Planned closures result in prorated tuition for the affected month. For unplanned closures, any makeup, credit, refund, proration, or alternative arrangement is governed by applicable written policy.

11. Access, Inclusion, and Service Animals

Evolve seeks to provide a welcoming environment. Families should share information that may help Evolve evaluate safe and appropriate participation, including accessibility, medical, sensory, behavioral, mobility, communication, and support needs.

Accommodations, exceptions, or modifications require Evolve's approval. Decisions may consider class size, instructor capacity, facility limits, safety, supervision, staffing, program goals, and fit. Evolve may recommend a different class, trial placement, modified participation, family conference, or additional information.

Service animals that meet applicable legal requirements may accompany a person with a disability in permitted areas. When the need is not obvious, Evolve may ask whether the animal is required because of a disability and what work or task it has been trained to perform.

Handlers are responsible for a service animal's control, care, supervision, hygiene, cleanup, and legally permitted liability. Evolve may require removal when legally allowed, including if the animal remains uncontrolled, is not housebroken, or creates an unresolvable direct safety concern. When feasible, the individual may participate without the animal.

12. Contact and Acknowledgment

Questions should be raised early so expectations can be clarified. Sensitive, urgent, legal, privacy, billing, safety, custody, or conduct concerns should be directed to ownership or the designated studio contact.
